

I would urge the FCC to continue the ban against all cell phone usage on airplanes. I am a frequent business traveler, and rely upon my air travel time as an opportunity to work, rest, or read in a quiet environment. People talking on cell phones would make these activities difficult at best, and transform air travel from a tolerable to unpleasant experience. Please maintain the current total ban on cell phones. Thank you for the opportunity to comment.